A FARCE IN CHURCH.

One of the Funniest of All Situations for Rural Vigilantes.

AN OLD BUMMER AND HIS BOTTLE

Snatched from the Altar in Time to Escape from Coraopolitans.

THEY WERE VERY LAME AT THE REAR

Coraopolis was treated to a serio-comic drama the other evening, which was quite | PATCH, annoying for a time to some people, and has since subjected them to considerable guying from those who escaped the necessity of tacing the danger. The constituent parts of the drama were a bottle of whisky, a dornick, a Grunken man, a damaged church and a demoralized populace. Two gentlemen named Devers and Magnus saw a man breaking his way into the Presbyterian Church, using a large stone for a battering ram. They remonstrated to no effect, for he had almost accomplished his object before they discovered him, and, getting into the gloomy basement, availed himself of the ancient privilege of sanctuary. A crowd gathered in the gloaming; but it seems to have had scruples about invading the sanctity of a church building, and contented itself by investing the place to prevent escape. How large the crowd might have grown, it is hard to say, had not a little son of Mr. A. W. McDonald ran home and told his father. Mr. McDonald came on the scene and forced his way into the basement and dragged out the invader, not from the horns of the altar, but from under the pipes of the heater.

Congregational meetings have been held regularly at night lately, and the temperature was balmy, inciting the inebriate to repose. After getting the intruder out, Mr. McDonald confiscated the bottle, and this part of the performance came nearer pro-ducing a tragedy than anything else. It was put under guard, however, and the culprit marched up to the office of the Burgess. This official advised the turning of the matter over to a justice of the peace, and McDonald, who had tired of the matter, turned the man over to a guard of some 15 or 20 men to take him before the justice."
On the way they all got ahead of the prisoner, except one man, who had a lame foot, and the prisoner, taking in the situation, broke like a quarter horse across Dil-lon's orchard, and the last seen of him he was nearing the wilds of Moon township, back of Captain McIntyre's residence; but the odor of bad whisky floated over that prohibition district for the greater part of the next forenoon. The man was rather well dressed, and an entire stranger. He threatened the bor-ough with the vengeance of the Amalgamated Association, the Knights of Labor, and, in a rabid speech, informed his captors that they were below him socially, mentally and every other respect, except physically, and in that he might have been a Mason, had he felt that way. The Home Guards swear that if he comes around that way again he will find them prepared to wipe out the stain on their bravery. They are irritated when they reflect that glory awaited them just there, and they failed to write their GOLDEN WEDDING. Take one pound of granulated sugar, half pound of butter, beat these to a light cream then add in four parts (beating light each time) the well-beaten yolks of twelve eggs; stir into this one cup sweet milk, one tea-spoonful extract vanilla, and one and onetourth pounds of flour, having mixed through the dry flour one and a half measures "Banner" Baking powder. Bake one four in a slow oven.

For the Icing.—Take two and a half cups granulated sugar, half cup water, boil three minutes, when cool, add the whites of three eggs, slightly beaten, and one teaspoonful extract vanilla.

Adulterated and unwholesome baking preparations are being continually forced upon the people, and while it is true that there is a demand for the so-called cheap goods from some consumers it is also true that the careful and prudent housewife, who has a proper regard for the health of the individuals, will not admit them into the household, but prefers to pay a fair price for a meritorious article, and if this pirit were universal it would mean an improvement in the health of the community Our advice then is to "resolve to get the best," and you will discover before long the truth of the old maxim, "The best is always the cheapest." The Banner Baking Powder is composed of the highest test, 99 per cent pure crystal creamtartar, which is the most expensive material that can be procured. Therefore, it cannot be sold at as low a price as the inferior goods that are made of alum, ammonia and Terra alba. For the recipe book address B. B. Co., Box 245, Pittsburg, Pa.

Great Inventory Sale, Now On. We shall commence our laborious task of stock-taking February r and as this seems to be a season for reductions we intend the few days remaining to us before stock-taking to by offering everything, yes everything, at a price which will not only astound everybody but beat anything within the "recollection of the oldest inhabitant." We intend that our customers shall every day this week reap the richest harvest of bargains ever known. The reductions we have made are greater than anyone outside our store has any idea of; we have not marked down prices in solitary or isolated places, nor yet on any particular grades of goods, but wherever the eye can see, in every department, will be found reduced prices, reduced to such an extent that nothing whatever remains of anywhere near the original figures. If some sales are greater than others then this sale of ours is the greatest of 'em all. We've marked down every article and garment to a price which you'll wonder at, to a price which will cause everyone who ascertains them and finds out the quality of the goods offered to be astounded. We haven't a single thing in our store but what is a bargain greater even than you think. Now, if you want anything we offer and want it cheaper than you've any idea of come and see us as early as you can.
